ANTHOLOGY LAUNCHES VOLUME 07, A STRIKING COLLECTION OF WALLCOVERINGS INSPIRED BY BRUTALIST INFLUENCES AND THE EVER-GIVING WONDER OF THE NATURAL WORLD, NEW FOR SS20

Anthology introduces Volume 07, an evocative collection of ten wide-width wallcoverings that further explore man's interaction with the natural world, unearthing abundant inspiration and endless possibilities.

New for SS20, this latest addition to the Anthology story is curated to be at one with the building in which it's placed, seamlessly amalgamating motifs and techniques with interiors of all ages. Hero designs such as Brutalist Stripe and Ammonite highlight the contrast between old and new, and luxurious beaded embellishments bring a distinctive, sophisticated style.

A captivating blend of semi-plain, large and small-scale designs, Anthology 07 features cork for the first time. A substrate for two of the compilation's most contemporary designs, this is an exciting addition, not just for the material's beautiful aesthetic, but also for its environmental and acoustic benefits.

Peter Gomez from the Anthology studio says, "With a range of contrasting wallcoverings, Anthology 07 tells a story from two sides of the design spectrum. On one hand, the permanence of fossils and concrete share a longevity and finality, juxtaposed against the fluidity of rippling waters and the shimmer of momentary refraction."

Featuring an enticing colour palette of aptly named tones such as Sapphire, Emerald, Slate, Brass and Charcoal, designs including Kimberlite, Ripple Stripe and Refraction reflect the direction of this collection, emulating its resonance with our surroundings, whether natural or manmade.

Volume 07 is perfect for all four walls and a blend of embossed and non-metallic inks further intensifies the collection, which also works alongside all previous Anthology launches.

ANTHOLOGY INTRODUCES VOLUME 07, AN EVOCATIVE COLLECTION OF TEN WIDE-WIDTH WALLCOVERINGS, INSPIRED BY MAN'S INTERACTION WITH THE NATURAL WORLD.

Luxurious beaded embellishments bring a distinctive, sophisticated style to this launch which is curated to be at one with the building in which it's placed. Cork is an exciting new addition, not just for its beautiful aesthetic, but also for its environmental and acoustic benefits.

Telling a story from two sides of the design spectrum, inspiration from fossils and concrete juxtapose against the fluidity of rippling waters in this beautifully designed and technique rich collection.

AMMONITE

Abstract, shaped fossils adorned with specialist glitter inks bring a timelessness to this rotary printed wallpaper. Natural colourways unearth an honesty, displaying a captivating and tactile design that's seemingly untouched, rather like its namesake.

Available in four colourways: Charcoal/Brass, Pumice, Sandstone and Shell

KIMBERLITE

Printed on heavyweight vinyl with a bespoke emboss, this wallpaper is representative of an igneous rock. A multifaceted design that showcases the contrasting directional composition of its organic form, Kimberlite's rugged appearance is inspired by its unpolished, natural equivalent.

Available in six colourways: Alabaster, Copper Oxide, Gold Oxide, Mist, Sapphire and Urban Gold

BRUTALIST STRIPE

A modern textural plain, Brutalist Stripe displays a distinctive, sophisticated look. With its textural appearance representative of pick hammered concrete and framed by a dramatic contrasting pinstripe when hung, this Anthology wallpaper creates a striking panelled effect.

Available in three colourways: Charcoal/Brass, Copper/Slate and Emerald/Kingfisher

BEADED BRUTALIST STRIPE

A modern textural semi plain, Beaded Brutalist Stripe displays an extravagant, lavish look. With its pick hammered appearance embellished with beading, the design is representative of polished concrete and the multitude of stones that lie within. Edged by a fine highlight stripe when hung, this Anthology wallpaper creates a distinctive panelled effect.

Available in two colourways: Graphite and Slate

RIPPLE STRIPE

Providing a contrast to Brutalism, the fluidity of this contemporary stripe adds height to a room. Inspired by the watery depths of marbling and the playful interaction of light on water, the wallpaper's blend of emboss and non-metallic inks further highlight the intensity of the design.

Available in four colourways: Emerald/Kingfisher, Mist, Sandstone and Steel

REFRACTION

Mirrored brush strokes with twists of colour give the illusion of fabric on the wall in this painterly Anthology wallpaper that's embossed throughout.

Available in six colourways: Copper/Slate, Emerald/Citrus, Moonstone/Brass, Sandstone, Urban Gold and Pebble/Shell

FOXY

This wonderfully versatile wide-width wallpaper displays a vintage design that's inspired by the foxing on antique mirrors and metallic surfaces. Creating a softly distressed and aged effect, Foxy is produced in a variety of impressive colourways, from its seven neutral tones (originally featured in Anthology O2) to three new accent colours.

Available in three new colourways: Blue Shell, Citrus and Emerald

SERI RAPHIA

An adaptation of Anthology's original Seri Raphia design, this interpretation further explores the texture of fabric, with loosely woven layers giving the appearance of a squared off cloth. Use on all four walls to incorporate a delicate blend of matt and shine.

Available in four colourways: Mist, Sapphire, Stone and Urban Gold

ESCHERESQUE

Named after M.C. Escher, the artist of impossible constructions, this stunning wallpaper is digitally printed on natural cork. Contrasting spontaneity and form with a labyrinth of prescriptive tessellations, Escheresque introduces both a mathematical order and a warm, softness (not to mention it's environmental and aesthetic qualities).

Available in two colourways: Charcoal/Natural and Copper/Slate

TECTONIC

Tectonic is a stunning design that's silk screen printed on natural cork and crafted in a spontaneous manner, at speed and before the paint dries. Energetic and infinite, the layering of light and dark builds to create a mesmerising and intriguing wallpaper that's full of movement (and amazing environmental and aesthetic qualities).

Available in a Charcoal/ Natural colourway
